

Cleaning and maintenance

Solidcore skirting boards

Care Instructions

- 1 For dust and deposits, simply clean the surface of the skirting board with a slightly damp cloth.
- 2 Commercially available floor-cleaning products used with water may be applied. Please follow the dosage instructions of the respective cleaner carefully. Overdosing may damage both the floor covering and the skirting board.
Do not use solvents or cleaners containing solvent-like substances, alkaline cleaners, or cleaners containing glycerine or solvents.
- 3 Cleaning products containing alcohol or alcohol-like ingredients, such as disinfectants, glass cleaners, etc., are not suitable for profiles with printed decorative surfaces. The use of products not intended for this purpose, such as wet wipes, care wipes, and similar products, is not recommended.
- 4 Solid-core skirting boards must not be cleaned with abrasive cleaners or materials with a rough, hard surface, such as scouring sponges, brushes, microfibre cloths, or scouring or brush pads used in machine cleaning.

- 5 Avoid heavy mechanical stress caused by brushing or dry rubbing, especially on printed decorative surfaces.
- 6 Wipe the skirting boards only with a slightly damp cloth. Do not clean them with steam cleaners. Remove any standing moisture on the floor immediately.
- 7 Foreign substances that may be deposited on the skirting board during work on adjacent components, such as walls or floor coverings — for example paint, sealants, primers, etc. — can attack and alter the surface, especially printed decorative surfaces. Appropriate measures must therefore be taken to protect installed profiles from accidental soiling.

Expert tip:

With the right care, Döllken solid-core skirting boards are extremely robust and long-lasting. The wrapped wood core provides a protected surface that is easy to clean. The skirting board remains dimensionally stable, and the decors retain their brilliance.
